Course Structure

This course is an online course, which means that you will access course information and respond to me through the use of the Internet. Blackboard and Pearson's MyITLab are used to deliver and manage this course. Please take a moment to read over the information at the Blackboard site before you get started. If the online environment is new to you or if you have problems of any nature, please do not let yourself become overwhelmed or spend hours of your time trying to figure out how to access something. You have many sources available to you for help. You can contact me by e-mail, telephone, or come by my office.

Attendance Policy

Even though this is an online class, students still have to access the course on a regular basis. The Blackboard software used to manage this online course tracks student logins, tracking when and where the student has been in the course. Accessing this course on a regular basis is extremely important in order to meet the objectives of this course. You will feel more at ease with the materials if you stay in touch with what is going on.

Minimum log in for the course is at least three (3) days per week. However, I recommend checking in once a day if possible for announcements. I can see how many times you log in!

You may work on this class 24/7. That's the advantage of an online class.

Withdrawal Policy

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

If for any reason the student is unable to complete the course requirements, it is the student's responsibility to initiate their own withdrawal by the 1st drop date for the semester. An administrative drop by the instructor in this course will, in most cases, result in the student receiving an "F" (not an "X"). The last day to drop a class is November 16, 2017. However, always discuss this with your instructor before dropping.

Academic Integrity – Read Carefully!

It is the aim of the faculty of South Plains College to foster a spirit of complete honesty and a high standard of integrity. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences, possibly suspension. This means all work you complete for this class is identified by the MyITLab access code. Work copied from another student will be flagged and both students will receive zeroes for their work. Students should refer to the SPC General Catalog policy regarding consequences for cheating and plagiarism.

Student Conduct

Rules and regulations relating to the students at South Plains College are made with the view of protecting the best interests of the individual, the general welfare of the entire student body and the educational objectives of the college. A high standard of conduct is expected of all students. Student should refer to the SPC General Catalog policy regarding student conduct.

Grading Policy

Book Projects—1 submission accepted	10%
Simulations—5 attempts—best overall grade	10%
Simulations Tests—3 attempts—best overall grade	10%
Grader Projects—3 attempts—best overall grade	40%
End of Chapter Exams—2 attempts—higher grade	10%
Capstone Project—2 submissions accepted—one given after Chapters 7-9 and one given after Chapters 10-12	20%

Make sure you complete the problems in the order they are presented. It is especially important to finish the book projects and simulations before you attempt the grader and capstone projects.

Final grades will be based on the following grading scale:

90-100=A, 80-89=B, 70-79=C, 60-69=D, Below 60=F

Your grades will be found in the MyITLab grade book.

Assignment Policy

Assignments will be shown in MyITLab. Problems that are not turned in will be assigned a grade of 0. All deadlines will be on Sunday night at 11:59 PM. I do not accept late work after this deadline.

Communication with instructor

1. Log in at least three (3) times a week (minimum). I recommend daily logins.
2. Check for announcements/mail in Blackboard—this is your responsibility. If you don't check in frequently, you may miss important information regarding your schedule, work, or grades.
3. Start work early in each week. Don't wait until the due date to start your work. When you do, something always happens like an illness or an unexpected problem. Remember, no time extensions can be given.
4. Communication with your instructor can be by phone (806-716-4638), by messaging through the Blackboard tools menu, or by SPC e-mail (pdennis@southplainscollege.edu). Always identify yourself with your full name as well as the course name and number in the subject line when contacting me. I have many students!
5. You will need to check your SPC e-mail or forward it to another e-mail of your choice. You can do this by clicking the following link: https://myspc.southplainscollege.edu/ICS/Students/Information_Technology/Email.jnz

Answers to Your Frequently Asked Questions About Using MyITLab

What is MyITLab?

The abbreviation IT (pronounced EYE-TEE) is commonly used in organizations to mean Information Technology. The IT Department is typically charged with managing all of the computer hardware and software in an organization.

MyITLab (pronounced MY-EYE-TEE-LAB) is a web-based program where you can practice Microsoft Office applications, access exercises related to important computer concepts, and take tests that your instructor will assign. It is your online lab for learning about IT—Information Technology.

How do I get an access code for MyITLab?

The textbook package described on Page 1 of this document includes an access code for MyITLab. You cannot share the code with another student. A code is good for one year after activation.

Will I need to enter my access code each time I log into MyITLab?

After you have logged into MyITLab the first time, you will not need the access code again. However, it is a good idea to write down the date first used on the cardboard package that contains the code and keep it in a safe place.

If I purchase several books with access codes, what should I do with the extra codes?

You can keep extra codes to use in the future. An un-activated code is good for at least one year from the date of first activation.

If I acquire a textbook and have no access code, how can I get one?

You can purchase a standalone MyITLab access code in the SPC Bookstore or directly from Pearson from the www.myitlab.com site. Do not purchase a code from another student or an online source other than Pearson, because you have no way to know if the code has already been used.

How do I access MyITLab from the Internet?

To access MyITLab, go to Blackboard and click on the MyITLab link on the menu; then sign in with your access code.

Am I required to purchase a textbook with an access code?
